Envisioning the home of the future with Home Collection

The present state of our environment has hastened a change in environmental policies and in the construction methods needed by society. An evolution that looks to the future through renewable energy systems, efficient materials and industrialised systems. The new HOME catalogue from Porcelanosa brings together multiple proposals for materials that promote energy savings and have recycled elements in their composition to help protect the environment. These materials are also more long-lasting and do not pollute our natural resources.

The products include PAR-KER® from Porcelanosa, which has some collections made with up to 95% recycled material; the FSC-certified woods used by Gamadecor and L'Antic Colonial; and Noken's Waterforest solutions, which can save up to 89% of water. These products all represent the PORCELANOSA Group's commitment to sustainability and the change in its production model towards a circular economy.

Innovation in exclusive collections for the kitchen, bathroom, living room, bedroom or any room in the home make PORCELANOSA Group materials the ideal option for creating longer-lasting and more versatile homes capable of improving the urban environment and habitability of spaces. A philosophy that began in 1973 with corporate values that remain intact half a century later. Porcelanosa, 50 years building stories.

Innovation in the kitchen

The worktop is a crucial element of any kitchen. Here, we create, prepare and finish our dishes. This surface, the main point of interaction in the kitchen, features the latest among PORCELANOSA Group's new developments, specially designed to make everyday life easier.

Gamadecor's new SmartKitchen induction system, with totally invisible dual technology, fuses innovation and design by providing a larger, completely smooth and unobstructed work area. It also transmits up to 2,000 watts of power, without batteries or external cables.

This means the kitchen's dual-purpose induction plates can be used as a cooking area, at the same time as providing wireless electrical charge for household appliances through electrical induction.

ECO-FLOW and ECO-START saving at home

The ECO aerator limits flow to a fixed rate, regardless of pressure, and saves up to 89% of water. Cold-start system technology means the tap always runs cold when you turn it on, meaning you only use hot water when actually required: lower energy costs and lower CO₂ emissions from heaters and boilers.

The KRION® Solid bathtubs are the reinvention and evolution of this classic piece. Lightweight volumes capable of transforming bathrooms into highly sophisticated minimalist spaces.

At the service of customers

Touchless solutions for the home

PORCELANOSA's wide range of products is complemented by the essential material solutions and accessories for installation during the construction of any project; adhesives, joints, decorative profiles, shower trays integrated into the floor, raised access floors or technical systems for organising wet areas such as terraces or swimming pools. As an added value, PORCELANOSA is always by the customers' side, from the choice of materials and details, to cleaning and maintenance solutions that ensure quality and durability.

Along the same lines, and with the aim of contributing to the development of more eco-efficient and sustainable building solutions, PORCELANOSA offers a technical advice service in the design and installation of ventilated façades from the Butech Technical Façade Department. A trusted guarantee, thanks to the experience in building envelopes made from ceramic, porcelain, natural materials, KRION® and XTONE all over the world.

The aim is to meet the needs of each project with the future of the home in mind.

Ventilated façades: saving up to 25% of energy

Through its company Butech, Porcelanosa has devised a series of construction solutions to improve building envelopes and efficiency. This firm specialises in advanced technical solutions and professional consultancy, and has stepped up its research and innovation efforts to design new products and systems linked to the green transition and sustainable development. This is the roadmap followed by its advanced ventilated façades, which, by improving the insulation of the building and facilitating air circulation within the envelope, save up to 25% of the cost of air conditioning.

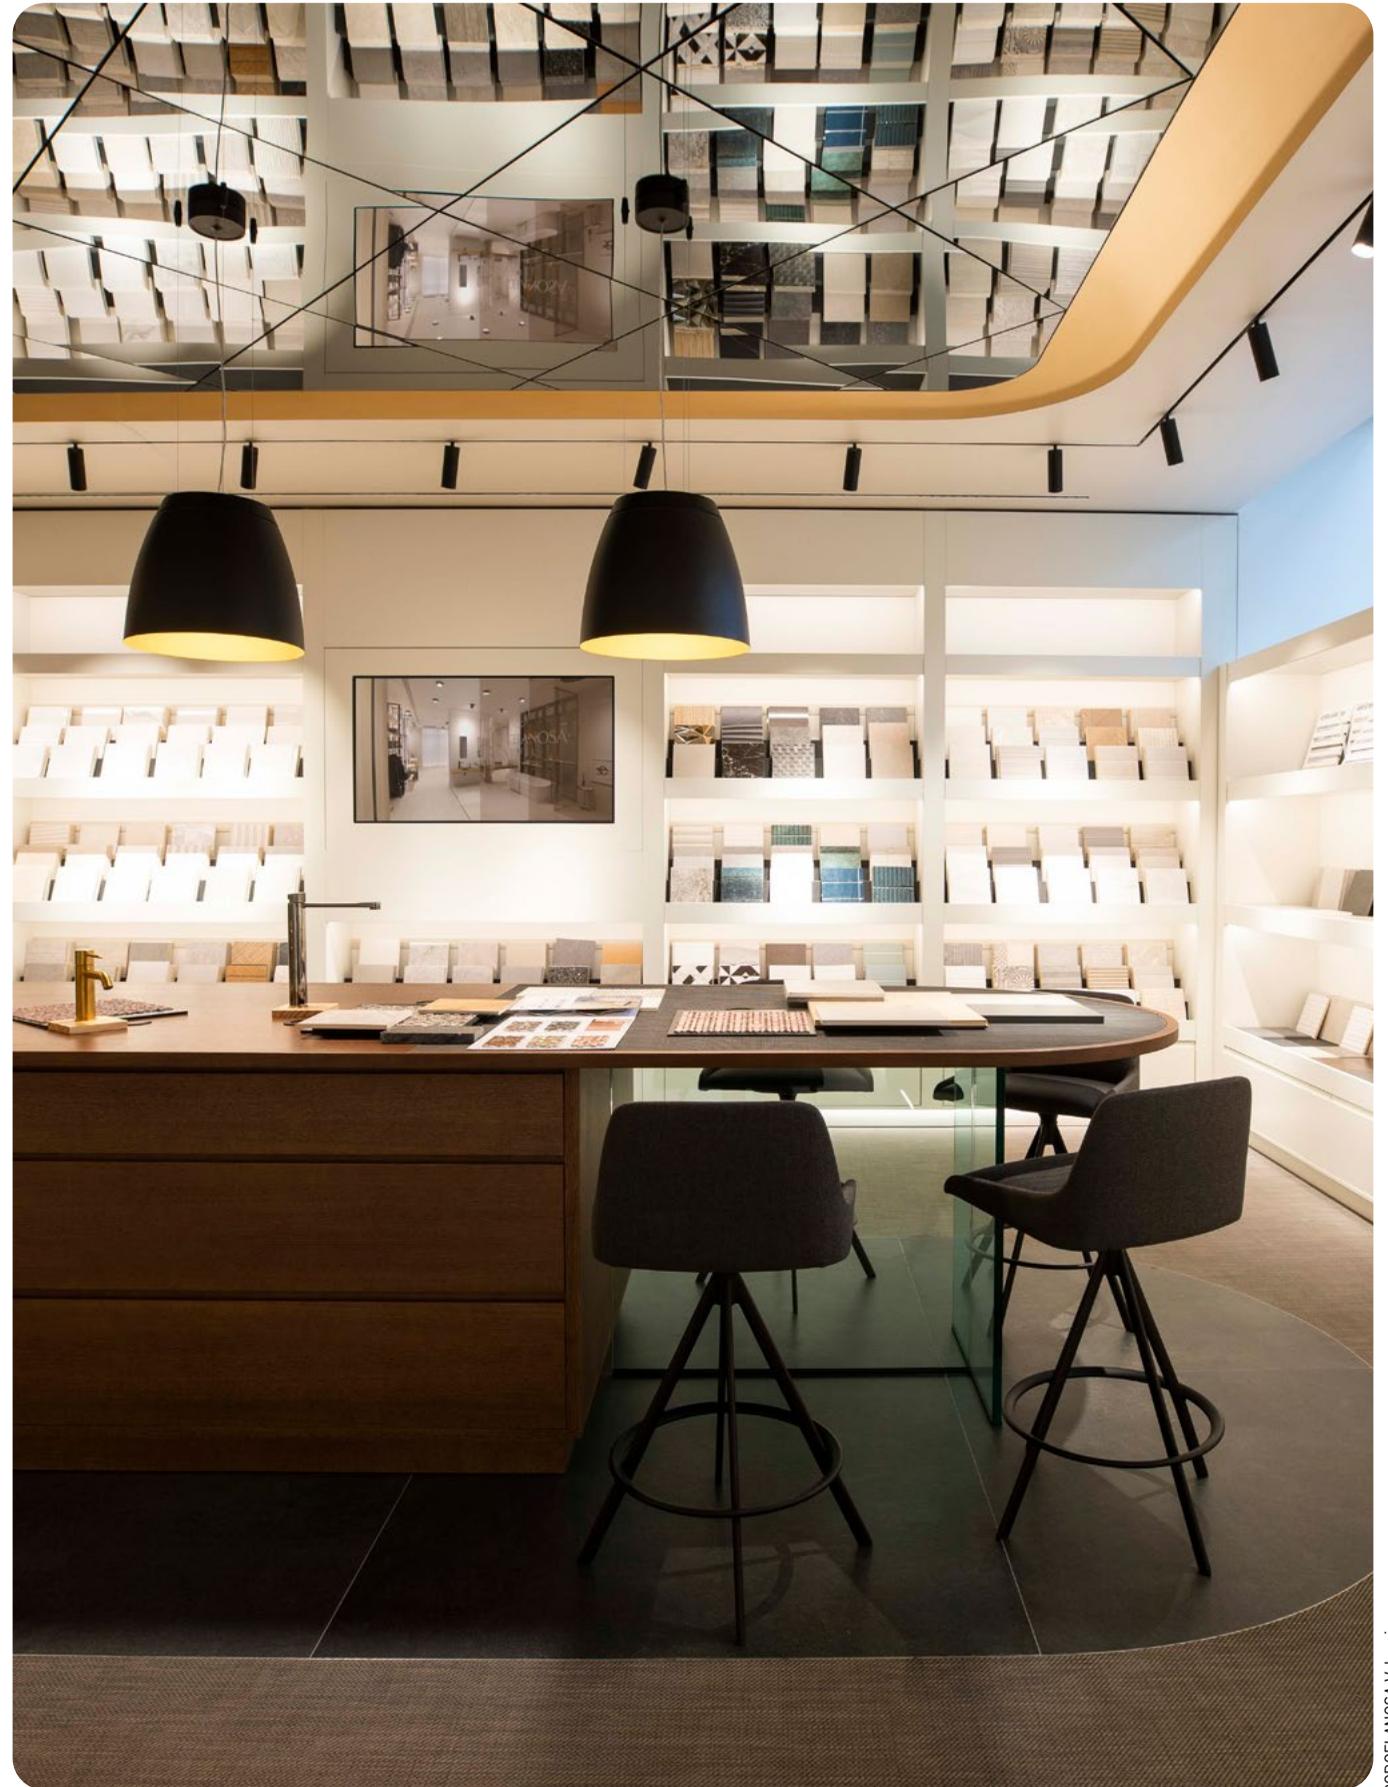

The systems are composed of a chamber or gap separating the building envelope and exterior cladding, which improves thermal and acoustic insulation and requires minimal maintenance. The company also offers technical flooring for outdoor areas, which reduces air conditioning and heating costs when used on rooftops, and minimises the effects of direct sunlight.

We offer you the latest trends and innovation for the overall design of your home
